

IT Assessment

IT environments have grown substantially in recent years, both in size and in complexity. New technology is constantly being layered on top of existing solutions in order to support new initiatives or direction changes. The downside of this on-the-fly growth? Still useful technologies can be buried under new additions while, in other cases, legacy solutions and licenses may continue to consume resources unnoticed. Overcoming these challenges and ensuring technology architecture and investments remain aligned with mission critical objectives requires accurate and up-to-date environmental snapshots.

Arraya's IT Assessment Service can provide a detailed understanding of the technology assets that an organization currently controls and supports. Organizations will come away from this assessment with the necessary data to protect themselves from technical debt, skills shortages and the inability to make timely decisions to remediate areas of improvement.

TAKING A STRATEGIC APPROACH TO TECHNOLOGY

Arraya's IT Assessment Service incorporates proven methodologies and a highly responsive approach to managing deliverables, all backed by our team of highly-qualified subject matter experts. Every engagement is overseen by an experienced project manager and custom-tailored to consider the needs and obligations of the individual organization.

In order to ensure our experts are always close at hand, Arraya will establish a readily accessible and secure file share. This allows our team to safely and easily share data and deliverables throughout the duration of the assessment.

EXECUTING ON BUSINESS OBJECTIVES

Upon the completion of the assessment, our team can continue to work side-by-side with technology and business leaders to help efficiently build and manage an ideal IT infrastructure. Using data about the current state gleaned from the assessment, Arraya will partner with onsite resources to further IT and business alignment by establishing a project portfolio and laying out a technology roadmap for future success.
